

Beat The Winter blues with a Luxury Vacation to the Caribbean Islands

Although winter has its grip on the most of the Northern Hemisphere, there are destinations offering warmth. Time to consider a luxury vacation to the Caribbean islands.

This time of the year is peak-season in the beautiful Caribbean islands. It's white sand beaches and coves become an exciting platform for the latest travel trends. It's no surprise that the unique Island of Nevis could hit the top spot for destinations to visit in 2019.

Paradise Beach Nevis is the only beachfront villa property located on Nevis. In addition, it is privately owned. In addition to the five new Beach Houses, the secluded resort offers seven sophisticated two, three, and four-bedroom thatched villas. Each one boasts a pebble-lined plunge pool and outdoor marble shower. Plus, find a private setting within lush gardens.

Unrivaled Romance:

Relax into the luxury of your own private Beach House at Paradise Beach, Nevis. Launched just in time for the holidays, each of the five new Beach Houses features its own sparkling portion of the ocean. Therefore, watch the stunning sunset with your love in complete seclusion. The beachfront property is also available to be booked for exclusive use.

Health and Wellness:

Sparsely populated, the island is home to more monkeys than people. As result, visitors can touch nature on an island unspoiled by commercial development. Guests of Paradise Beach, Nevis can enjoy fresh juice delivered daily, rainforest bathing and in-villa, luxury spa treatments.

Action-packed Adventures:

Attracting competitors from across the globe, Nevis is host to a variety of athletic competitions. So guests visiting later in the season, can participate in the Nevis to St. Kitts' Cross Channel Swim. This popular event takes place on March 31, 2019.

Multi-Generational and Group Travel:

Paradise Beach offers a range of villa sizes. Each villa comes equipped with full gourmet kitchens and private pools. Hence, to tailor the luxury level, guests can pre-order groceries or enlist the private chef. That's a pure luxury lifestyle. Also, enjoy complimentary yoga classes or work with the personal trainer.

Cultural Carnivals:

Experience the best of Caribbean culture at the St. Kitts Nevis National Carnival. In addition, it's also known as Sugar Mas. It runs between mid-November and early January. Seasonal visitors can also experience the visually stunning National Carnival Parade, which takes place in January.

Once you arrive in the Caribbean islands, take a connecting flight to St. Kitts Basseterre International Airport. Next, it's a short 10 minute boat ride to Paradise Beach, Nevis.

This gorgeous Caribbean island is remote, tiny and private. Yet, it is simple to get to in comparison with other long-haul expeditions.

Are you ready to finally stop shoveling snow and lie on a sandy beach in the Caribbean Islands? We thought so. Beat the stress of everyday life and pamper yourself.

Travel to the Caribbean Islands and stay at the Island of Nevis. Be sure to come back again and follow this popular luxury blog.

Photo: Paradise Beach, Nevis