

Enjoy a Memorable Small-Ship Voyage With Windstar Cruises

Although there is so much overhype regarding the Coronavirus, the cruise industry is strong. Windstar Cruises specializes in casually elegant, small-ship voyages to alluring ports and secluded harbors. The cruise line has a fantastic selection of travel destinations. Isn't it time you consider a luxury cruise?

What is nice is Windstar's ships carry fewer than 350 passengers. Therefore, all cabins and suites have ocean views. The luxurious rooms are outfitted in fine Egyptian linens, and marble bathrooms. Also, these thoughtfully designed spaces come with ample room for storage.

There is lots to do on a Windstar Cruises ship. You can go swimming, paddleboarding, kayaking or water skiing off the aft Watersports Platform. In addition, get a massage in the WindSpa or unwind with a book in the Library. Next, visit the Bridge to chat with the ship's officers and get a look at the navigation charts and the view.

Plus, guest speakers on some voyages give presentations on a variety of topics. Learn about oceanography or Polynesian culture. Lastly, The Lounge hosts live music, while the crew show and feature some of the ship's talented staff members. What a passenger favorite event.

Dining venues include Veranda for buffet-style and full-service meals. Try the main restaurant Amphora, alfresco Candles and the Wind Surf's French-inspired Stella Bistro. Also, the deck barbecue is a popular highlight of each sailing. Hence, it's often planned for the itinerary's most scenic port call. Room service is available around the clock.

Windstar Cruises is proud to be the official cruise line of the James Beard Association. As a result, it offers regionally themed James Beard Foundation Culinary Cruise Collection voyages with guest chefs and sommeliers. Therefore, enjoy wine-pairing dinners, cooking demonstrations, local market tours and wine, spirit or beer tastings.

Anthony Sasso, a past guest chef, returns to Windstar to open the Spanish-themed Cuadro 44 aboard the three power ships this year. Meanwhile, James Beard Award-winning author, TV cook and grill master Steven Raichlen will debut the alfresco Star Grill. Dine for delicious grilled, smoked and rotisserie specialties aboard the same vessels.

Windstar offers Signature Expeditions on Alaska cruises. Six experts on the land's glaciers, wildlife and culture spend time with cruise guests. There is so much to do. For example, try lead optional hiking, kayaking and Zodiac excursions in pristine locales like Kenai Fjords National Park.

Now you can save up to 68% with big discounts and exclusive pricing on select sailings. On select departures booked at eligible rates, you pay a reduced deposit. Then get two free bottles of wine and a choice of one perk based on the type of cabin.
