

Luxury Travel Getaway to Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard

Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard are two the most iconic and popular vacation spots in the U.S. As the cold weather departs until next winter, we now move into the busy travel season.

Cape Cod is about 70 miles long. This Massachusetts barrier island features meandering, sandy beaches and scenic, grassy marshes. With a laid-back atmosphere, Cape Cod has long been a summer vacation spot. Popular with locals from Boston and New York, the area also attract visitors from all around the world.

Off the shore of Cape Cod is another magnificent destination – Martha's Vineyard. This island is a short, ferry ride of approximately 45 minutes. Like Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard is one of the most popular places to see in New England.

When visiting Cape Cod and Martha's Vineyard, you want to be sure to stay in hotels that give you that New England, authentic experience. Immerse yourself in the Northeast charm and take in the refreshing sea breezes. Fragrant flowers are blooming and there's so much to see and do here.
