

Chef Chosen Meals – Tasting Menus

You finally score that hard to get dinner reservation, and sit down in a lavish restaurant soaking up the ambiance. Now the difficult choice is deciding what to order from the numerous mouth watering menu choices. Why hassle? Let the head chef decide for you.

This is a growing trend in top restaurants. Tasting menus which typically come with set prices, are becoming more common at America's top restaurants. Many have even done away with a la carte ordering all together.

If you want to know the highest price restaurant. Manhattan's Masa is tops with a $400 per person set menu – plus an automatic 20 percent gratuity. Cha-ching! Full article