

The Michelangelo in New York City

Michelangelo New York hotel – lobby

The luxury Michelangelo in New York City is located amidst the shining lights of Manhattan's Theater District and just steps from some of New York City's major sites – Rockefeller Center, the boutiques of Fifth and Madison Avenues, and the non-stop buzz of Times Square.

The Michelangelo exudes the old world charm of an Italian Grande Dame hotel with all the modern touches today's urban travelers have come to expect.

The four-star, five-diamond Michelangelo hotel is owned and operated by Italy-based Starhotels group and is a proud member of Preferred Hotels and Resorts. The Michelangelo becomes the brand's first luxury property in the U.S.

The Michelangelo hotel features 123 guest room, 56 suites, and 28 residences. With some of the largest rooms in the Big Apple, customers can enjoy an average of 475 square feet of living space.

Michelangelo New York hotel – Exec room

The elegant decor at the Michelangelo consists of marble, cherry wood, and black and brass accents that are softened by rich silks and velvets, many of which were custom woven exclusively for the property.

You will also discover many pieces of original artwork of both Italian and European origin throughout the hotel, including the grand lobby, lounges, meeting rooms, plus private spaces that add to the hotel's palatial feel.

For an Italian heritage, fine-dining experience, try the Insieme restaurant. Under the culinary creative direction of new Executive Chef Andres Grundy, Insieme ("together" in Italian) offers patrons a feast that intertwines the cuisines of Italy, France, and Spain. Each dish on Insieme's seasonally-changing menu will showcase Chef Grundy's personal gourmet inspirations.
